with Betty Allen...

The hobby show last Saturday was an example of what this community can accomplish in shared activities. Nothing is more fun to share than your particular hobby and the high school gym was filled with beaming exhibitors who were busily explaining their displays to the interested visitors.

A wide range of interest and abilities was evident. The spare-time accomplishments of local people ranged from skillful ceramics, displayed by both Mrs. Arthur Tindall and Mrs. Bud Fossum, to a really amazing display of pipes by LBen Howard. In addition to collections which included every conceivable object, the show presented the work of true craftsmen. Frank Cutting delighted the audience by painting a landscape before their very eyes.

Outstanding were the remarkable photographs exhibited by E. R. Thompson. M. Rayley Seaman showed both charming pastels and well-done leather work. Dick Metz's exhibit of model airplanes drew many an "ooh" and "ah" and Bob Raker's magic show was more than popular, particularly with the younger set.

A favorite with the women was Mrs. Hannah Barber's large display of crocheting—and everyone enjoyed the handsome showing of the Campbell Garden Club. In addition to all these, there were dozens of other interesting hobbies and it would be a lot of fun for everyone if the hobby show became an annual affair. It makes a good meeting ground for children and adults and it's universal in its appeal.

I've heard of people running into doors, but Gene Hodges really did and has witnesses to prove it as well as seven stitches in his forehead.

A GROWING NEWSPAPER IN A GROWING COMMUNITY

Dance Plans Progress

Paul Putnam and his orchestra, a well-known dance band in the community, have been secured for the community dance which will be held August 2 in the high school gym from 8:30 until 12, according to a recent announcement by Art Tindall, who is in charge of the affair.

Great plans are being made for entertainment during the intermission and a record turnout is expected at the second community dance. Refreshments will also be served by committee members. All profit from the affair will be turned over to the community recreation fund. All ages are cordially invited to attend, as this is a community dance for the residents of the Campbell area.

Fall Elections On Bond Issue

An important election will be held this fall to vote on the bonds to build a dam to save the flood waters of Los Gatos creek. This is a vital issue to all Campbell area residents and has been cause of much controversial talk in the state legislative chambers during the past few months. Everyone registered in the Campbell district should vote on this issue.

In order to vote one must be registered at least 40 days before election, the time for registration expiring about the middle of August. Those who must register in order to vote include persons coming of age since the last election, those who have moved here from another county or who have changed residence within the district or failed to vote at the primary or general election in 1946.

It was pointed out by the office of Herbert C. Jones, attorney for the Santa Clara Valley Water Conservation District, that the recent house re-numbering in Campbell does not constitute a change of address and it will not be necessary for those persons who have had their houses renumbered to re-register.

Registrations are being taken at the office of Guy Farley on Campbell Avenue and at the courthouse in San Jose.

DEATH TAKES

MRS. CORONA STEEN

The many friends of Mrs. Anne A. Marshman are sorry to learn of the death of her mother, Mrs. Corona E. Steen, in Los Gatos last Sunday. Private funeral services were conducted Wednesday at the Place Funeral Home in Los Gatos.

In addition to her daughter, Mrs. Steen is survived by her husband, Thorleif R. Steen, and two sons, Robert O. Steen of Oakland and John O. Steen of Los Gatos.

Local Restaurant Changes Hands

Because he is a sport enthusiast and is looking forward to witnessing high school sports during the coming year, Abe Hathoot chose the name of "The Buccaneers" for the creamery and restaurant which he recently purchased on the Winchester Road just off Campbell Ave.

Formerly "The One-Stop," the establishment has been enlarged and remodeled. The new owner will have complete fountain service, lunches and drive-in service.

Although he has been in the grocery business in Enid, Okla., for several years, Hathoot claims Indiana as his home.

He and his wife say they like Campbell and plan on buying a home here in the near future. They have two children, a daughter, nine, and a son, one.

He was an outstanding student, an all-around athlete and active in student affairs. He received his block in football, basketball, baseball and track and served as student body vice president during the first half of his senior year.

Auxiliary Thanked For Rehabilitation Work At Hospital

The following letter from the Veterans Administration Hospital in Palo Alto was received recently by Mrs. Clarence Fagalde, rehabilitation chairman for the Campbell unit, American Legion Auxiliary. The money obtained from the sale of poppies each year by members of the auxiliary on Poppy Day is used exclusively for this type of work in the veterans' hospitals and for rehabilitation work among the veterans and their families.

On June 26 some 12 members of the auxiliary traveled to the Palo Alto hospital and put on a weiner roast for three closed wards of veterans. This was the first program of this type ever to be put on by any auxiliary group at the hospital under the rehabilitation program.

American Legion Auxiliary Campbell Unit No. 596. My dear ladies:

We are deeply grateful to you for the excellent barbecue you provided the patients on Thursday, June 26. It was the first one of the season and a tremendous success.

May we also express our appreciation for the fine work your members have done in making the padded slippers. They were taken to our infirmary ward, and were most enthusiastically received. Our patients will enjoy them for their warmth and comfort.

Your efforts for the welfare of our hospitalized veterans mean a great deal to them, and are an important factor in their rehabilitation.

Please accept our thanks once again; we shall be looking forward to seeing you again Thursday, September 25.

B. J. Rudquist,
Chief, Special Services.

New Minister At Church Of Christ

Preaching his first sermon Sunday morning for the Church of Christ congregation was E. M. Borden, Jr., who is taking over the pulpit vacated by F. T. Hamilton. Rev. Hamilton recently left to preach in the Philippines.

Rev. Borden, who arrived here a week ago, with his wife Elsie, and three children, Eli, 9, Louella, 7, and Frances, 2, is now residing at 74 N. First street. He comes here from Hanford where he was minister for two years in the Church of Christ. A student of psychology he has made a practice of trying to enter as many fields of work as possible in order to more better understand the other persons' problems. He has spent several years in newspaper work in Clovis, New Mexico, and is a licensed public accountant in California.

Borden states that Campbell appears to be a very nice town and he enjoys the climate and the feeling of friendliness which is characteristic of Campbell residents. The only complaint was of the heavy traffic on Campbell avenue. As a resident here he is keenly interested in the political issues confronting Campbellites and he was in Wasco several years ago when in his opinion it was the selfishness of only a few individuals which kept the town from incorporating for several years.

Mrs. Borden takes an active part in her husband's work and helps him with the visiting and sick calls.

Heavy Schedule Begins Here In Hunt Cannery

Women hurrying down the street Monday afternoon in blue and white caps, comfortable shoes and wearing aprons over house dresses, marked the opening of the peach canning schedule of Hunt Foods, Inc. Frank Silva, superintendent of the plant, stated that peaches and pears were being packed Monday with fruit cocktail and fruit salad being processed later in the week.

At present only two shifts are being employed with approximately 500 to 600 employees on the payroll. The operation is expected to continue until early October with a peak of 900 to 1000 persons being employed. A pack of 1500 cases of fruit per day is being produced at the plant.

Silva stated that while old employees were being taken on first it was expected that new employees would be needed before the end of the season.

The remodeling which is going on throughout the plant is up to schedule and is expected to be completed in August.

She California association is one of the largest state physical therapists associations in the United States today, over 180 delegates attending the convention.

Cambrian School Building Starts

Building of the new Cambrian school building is expected to start this week, according to D. M. Bagby, principal. The new building, which is contracted to the Swenson Company for $42,000, will consist of three rooms, and offices and corridors. The new rooms will be of modern architectural designs and will face on Casey Rd. They will be 24x40 feet, and it is hoped that they will be finished by the first of the year. The present school is greatly over-crowded and classes were held in the auditorium and in corridors during the last school year.

At the same time, the old building is being renovated and the office is being enlarged. The ground surrounding the school is being cleared and it is expected that an

Program Planned By Community Council

Under the head of new business a committee was appointed by President LBen Howard to investigate the possibility of constructing a swimming pool in Campbell. Serving on the committee are Arthur Tindall, Mrs. Ray Gilpatrick, Mrs. Weyland Morgan and D. L. Stone.

Different methods of financing recreation in the community were discussed with the financial committee headed by Herbert Shadle to investigate the matter more fully. A letter concerning the different methods of financing community recreation was read from District Attorney Leonard Avilla.

A committee to investigate setting aside of playground space was also appointed with Laurence Hill, D. L. Stone and Mrs. Weyland Morgan serving. This committee is to contact Nester Barrett, secretary of the County Planning Commission and invite Barrett to attend the next meeting of the Council.

A letter was read from H. M. McGushin, member of the Thornton Way Improvement club offering his lots in the Meridian district for recreational activity.

The recreational activities to date were summarized by Arthur Tindall who also announced the events to take place during the coming months. Campbell and Cambrian grounds have been operating for five weeks with average daily attendance of 25 to 35 youngsters. Work is still under way to establish grounds in the Moorpark and San Tomas districts. The first four weeks period of swimming has been completed with 200 children participating. A second grammar school age group is now having lessons and a high school age and adult group has also been formed.

Buc's Cove has approximately 80 members who are taking part in a program of dancing, games, sports and swimming.

CAPITAL SCENE

WASHINGTON—Safe-keeping: When Secretary of State Marshall moved into the new state department building—formerly the war department—he found next to his office a giant safe. The huge air-conditioned vault was designed to keep the nation's most secret military plans. Marshall, a practical man, who, unlike some other people, believes the war is over, figured there were plenty of other places to hide secrets. So if you drop into Marshall's office at about 2 p.m. you will find, not war secrets in the huge safe, but a comfortable cot with the secretary of state spread out on it. Marshall believes in a 20-minute nap immediately after lunch. To this,

Mrs. Marshall attributes her husband's ability to remain relatively fresh despite the hectic war years.

APPEASING LABOR—Republican leaders are worried over their alienation of labor—so much so that they have trotted out one piece of legislation which no one ever expected to see at this congressional session—the minimum wage act. . . . For months, Florida's Senator Pepper and other New Dealers have been trying to boost the minimum wage from 40 to 60 cents an hour. But Republicans balked. Now, to appease labor and to win over the poorest paid one-third-of-the-nation, Speaker J. Martin and Sen. Bob Taft have dusted off the minimum wage bill and hope to ram it through congress at this session.

THE WRATH DEPARTMENT—Ire and indignation have blazed around the White House, thanks to ex-court jester George Allen and ex-president-maker Jim Farley with their "kiss-and-tell" literature. President Truman was plenty steamed up over Allen's magazine epic on "Two Years With Truman." The man angriest at Farley for his Roosevelt revelations is Democratic press agent emeritus, Charlie Michelson. Charlie's characterization of Farley is unprintable.

NEW PRESIDENTIAL VOICE

Credit White House radio adviser J. Leonard Reinsch with the big improvement in President Truman's radio voice. After long and patient study, Reinsch found that the trouble with Mr. Truman's radio personality was that he talked too fast. Reinsch experimented with a number of gadgets, including a moving tape, before he clicked with the present successful formula. Now Reinsch has Mr. Truman's speeches typed in large letters with only one sentence to a page. He also has convinced Mr. Truman that no station would ever cut the President off the air, no matter how slow his speech, and that he can take all the time he wants. Result: Mr. Truman now emphasizes every phrase, speaks easily, rarely stumbles.

PRESIDENTIAL AFTERNOON

President Truman was careful to eat ice cream in front of the photographers at this year's White House garden party for wounded war veterans. A year ago at the same annual event, photographers pictured the President smiling, his mouth full of ice cream, while the nation's railroads halted in a paralyzing strike. As the President sympathetically shook hands with a long row of men on crutches and in wheelchairs, labor was again in the headlines. Back of the President's oval study on the neat gray porch was a group of rocking chairs. The President likes to sit there and chat with relaxing guests. It looked very pleasant around the carefully groomed White House, but neither the President nor the country had found peace.

MARSHALL'S "FACE-LIFTING"—When diplomats first called on Secretary Marshall in his new building—formerly the war department—military murals adorned the walls. Marshall, now a builder of peace, tried to get rid of the murals, but found the law was against him. He could not alter them without an act of Congress. So he has ordered rich green draperies hung over the works of Mars outside his own office.

Campbell Court Notes

By Judge Blaine

With incorporation again an issue, interest is renewed in Campbell Court fines and fees. What could reasonably be expected in monthly and annual income?

The natural tendency is to look at the income Campbell Court has now. For instance, for the last fiscal year the total was around $2000. But probably not over $300 of this amount originated from within what would be our city limits.

Any considerable police court income would seem to mean new business. This is easily possible. In one month Los Gatos police court fines sometimes reach $500, in Sunnyvale $1000 (not $100 as recently said in these notes), with the amounts mainly from traffic fines.

Within our probable city limits there may be 100 minor traffic violations a day. The possibilities thus appear exciting, almost staggering. Still, we don't want to be so technical as to drive country business to other communities.

A reasonable 10 arrests for minor traffic violations a day, half for double parking and half for "no arterial stop," fined $1 and $2 respectively, would yield $450 a companies. Metropolitan Life just loaned Johns-Manville 25 million dollars. . . . The senate's lukewarm probe of the steel black market will be moved to California as soon as congress recesses. There is growing criticism that Pennsylvania's Senator Martin, a great friend of the Mellon interests, is soldiering on any real probe of steel. . . . Latest figures on housing show that the number of new homes started in May totaled 69,000—a jump of 300 over the April figure. . . . Although the government is paying out millions in subsidies to farmers and producers of lead, copper and zinc, talk of a subsidy to increase steel capacity still is considered heresy.

month, or $5400 a year. To make this small number of arrests should be no problem at all.

The ideal would seem to be law enforcement that would reduce disturbing the peace and vandalism to a near vanishing point while leaving enough minor traffic violations to help pay the law-enforcement bill! There is humor in all this; and after all it's pretty hard to get along in the world without humor—even in an incorporated town.

Humor suggests that it is becoming ridiculous to have a town of this size without police service of some kind, either from incorporation or from a police district.

Campbell Garden Club Notes

At the recent meeting of Campbell Garden Club held at the patio of the What-Not Shop a talk on "Flower Arranging" was given by Mrs. Parr. Mrs. Ray Fish served as hostess for the group.

A resolution was passed to adopt a constitution and by-laws with Mrs. Harold E. Peck, Mrs. Fritz, Mrs. Cantoni, Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. Massberg serving on the committee. Members who have missed three meetings with no plausible excuse will be dropped from the membership rolls in order to make room for new members. Mrs. Mark Killmer was chosen chairman of membership. An interesting talk on her recent trip to Guatemala was given by Mrs. E. E. Lanphear, and a trip to the begonia gardens is planned for the end of July or the first week in August.

The next meeting, to be held in August, will be at the patio.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert I. Sloan of San Jose. Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sloan. The new Mrs. Kittrell formerly attended Campbell Union high school.

The bridegroom is now a yeoman first class, stationed in Honolulu with the personnel division of the commander-in-chief, Pacific Fleet. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carol C. Kittrell of San Jose and is a graduate of Campbell Union high school. The young couple plan on making their home in Honolulu while Mr. Kittrell is stationed there.

WEDDING DATE SET

Sunday, August 3, has been set for the wedding date of Miss Barbara R. Waller of San Jose and Elmer R. Garrison of Campbell. The young couple, who plan to be married in the Episcopal church in San Jose, will reside in the Campbell area following the ceremony. Garrison is a graduate of Campbell Union high school and served for two years in the Navy as a seaman first class. He is now working in Campbell for his brother, E. A. Garrison of Sunny Oaks Road.

CRAMERS ENJOY TRIP EAST

A recent communication from the D. H. Cramers tells of a pleasant trip in the East. At present, they are in Cleveland, Ohio, after a tour of Michigan visiting friends and relatives. They will head soon for Kentucky. While back east Mr. and Mrs. Cramer spent an afternoon visiting with Mr. Laurence Osborne's parents in Franklin, Pennsylvania.

Campbell High Graduate Married Recently In S. J.

One of the newly married couples now receiving "at home" are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Louis Smith who were married recently by the Rev. Henry Crose at the Grace Baptist church in San Jose. The bride, the former Miss Margaret Jean McCulloch, was given in marriage by her father, Glenn H. Hutchinson. She wore a gown of old ivory slipper satin with a long train and a long veil edged with Irish lace. She wore as her jewelry a heirloom strand of pearls, a gift of her mother, and pearl earrings. Her bridal bouquet was of white gladioli, bouvardia and white orchids.

Serving as matron of honor was Mrs. Jack Thornton, aunt of the bride. Bridesmaids were Miss Virginia Lee Visconte and Miss Lillie Mae Paul, a cousin of the bride. Flower girls were Joe Ellen Paul and Linda Thornton, the bride's cousins. Best man was Ralph N. Smith, brother of the bridegroom, while Richard E. Burdick and Jack Hutchinson acted as ushers. Following the ceremony a reception was held in the hall of the church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn H. Hutchinson and is a graduate of Campbell Union high school where she was a member of Theta Rho club and the a cappella choir.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph I. Smith and attended San Jose State College, where he was a member of Alpha Phi Omega. A veteran of the 15th Army Air Force he is now employed in San Jose. The young couple are now residing at 988 Minnesota Avenue.

Former Resident Is Bridegroom

A double ring ceremony, at the Trinity Episcopal church, united in marriage Miss Gladys (Gay) Briggs of Knowles, and Robert Howe of Campbell.

The rites were solemnized in mid-afternoon by Dr. Mark Rifenbark before an altar decorated with white gladioli, carnations and stock.

The bride's traditional white satin gown was fitted in the bodice and was styled with a high neckline and a full skirt on train accented with heavy lace trim at the neckline and down the front of the skirt. Her finger-tip veil was held in place with a heart shaped crown styled with forget-me-nots and tiny pearls.

George Briggs escorted his daughter down an aisle marked with white gladioli tied with satin ribbon, to the altar where they were met by the bridegroom and the best man, Don Lantz.

Mrs. Don Lantz, the former Shirley Forbes of Campbell, was matron of honor and bridal attendants were twin sisters, Josephine and Kathleen McCarthy of Oakland. Mrs. Lantz was attired in an off-the-shoulder gown of yellow eyelet. She wore a wide brimmed hat of blue horsehair accented with blue and yellow velvet flowers. The attendants wore identical gowns of blue georgette styled with cap sleeves and sweetheart necklines. All three carried bouquets of gladioli and carnations tied with white satin ribbon. Bridesmaids hats were fashioned of blue pleated horsehair crowns. These, the hat of the matron of honor and the bridal veil, were all made by the mother of the bride.

Little Miss Christina Nissen of San Francisco preceded the bride as flower girl and Gary Matthew acted as ring bearer. Ushering duties were performed by Charles Howe and Milton Howe, brothers of the bridegroom.

Music for the ceremony was provided by Mrs. Cowger at the organ and Miss Emily Baptista, schoolmate of the bride, who sang "I Love Thee" by Edward Grieg.

A reception was held in the parish hall where the couple cut a four-tiered cake which was served to some 200 guests. Decor at the reception included white gladioli and greenery. The wedding cake was surrounded by two dozen gardenias and a white taper stood on either side. Misses Kathy Shaffer, Evelyn Charter, Emily Baptista and Mrs. Leon Matthew assisted at the reception.

For her going away outfit the new Mrs. Howe chose a suit of white gabardine with Kelly Green accessories.

The bride's mother chose an afternoon dress of navy blue and accessories of navy blue and rose-of-ash. A black afternoon dress was selected by the bridegroom's mother, who accented her attire with black and white accessories and both wore corsages of three gardenias.

The bride is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Briggs of Knowles. She attended Madera Union high school and has been attending San Jose State college. The new Mrs. Howe plans to continue her journalistic studies at the Los Angeles City College.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Howe of Campbell, attended Campbell high school and San Jose State college prior to his four years in the Army Air Corps. He is now a student at the Northrup Aeronautical Institute in Inglewood. The couple plan to take up temporary residence in southern California.

The double ring rites were performed in the garden of the bride's parents underneath a massive oak tree with a background of daisies and green shrubbery.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attractively gowned in white lace which ended in a long train. Her finger-tip veil was held in place by a coronet of orange blossoms and her unusually beautiful bridal bouquet was fashioned entirely of bouvardia.

The bride's two sisters attended her. Mrs. Bernard Duveneck, as matron of honor, wore a frock of pale blue quilted taffeta, and Miss June Sanford was attired in white dotted swiss. Both carried bouquets of mixed flowers.

Lauren Locke, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man and usher was Bernard Duveneck. A reception for the wedding guests followed the ceremony.

NEW ELECTRIC
TO SERVE A GREATER CALIFORNIA

SHORTLY AFTER THE WAR ENDED, we announced a construction program which will provide 1,000,000 additional horsepower of electricity and expansion of natural gas distribution facilities to help build a greater California. This program will cost over $350,000,000 during a six-year period. Last year over $44,000,000 was spent on this program, and nearly $7,000,000 a month has been spent so far this year to press forward this vast construction and expansion throughout Northern and Central California.

When the program is completed in 1951 there will be available a total capacity of more than 3,500,000 electric horsepower for distribution to the homes, farms and factories in the area this Company serves.

Down through the great Central Valley from Shasta County to Kern County and along the coastal plain from Humboldt County to Santa Barbara, P. G. & E.'s integrated network of generating and distributing facilities is being expanded as fast as materials and equipment can be made available. Thus we provide electric power and gas service for the future needs of Northern and Central California.

Safety With Your Pressure Cooker

The number of accidents resulting from the use of pressure sauce pans is on the increase. Mostly the accidents are due to carelessness in handling. For safety be sure to read the directions carefully and be sure you understand how your sauce pan operates. Never open a sauce pan when the pressure is up. The pressure may be reduced very easily by placing the sauce pan under a stream of cold water or setting the sauce pan in a pan of cold water. When the pressure is down it is then safe to open the sauce pan.

A few minutes spent in care of the sauce pan after each using will pay dividends in the long run. Always wash the sauce pan well and scour it with a good cleanser. Rinse it thoroughly and wipe it perfectly dry. Be sure that the rubber ring is carefully washed and dry. As you know, grease rots rubber and the ring will last much longer if you wash it in hot suds each time you use it.

Then check to be sure the vent pipe is clean. Hard water can cause a film which will clog the vent. Sometimes particles of food can become lodged in the vent, so for safety use a wire or pipe cleaner frequently.

HISTORY OF CAMPBELL

The mission listed the village of each neophyte when he was enrolled, but without giving locations, and so many of them are without meaning. The Indians of Santa Clara were Tamien; those of San Jose. Werwersen; of Santa Cruz, Sokel and Hotochtak; and those of San Juan, Paisan. Socoisukas and Gerzuensens were said to have lived on the Guadalupe. The Indians of one village were always suspicious of those of another.

In central California at least five distinct dialects are reported, but only fragmentary vocabularies have been preserved and none at all of the Indians of the Guadalupe and Los Gatos creeks. The names Olhon, Ahwaste, Altahno, Romanon and Tulomo have been given to the five dialects, but they may be names of villages, families, tribes or mere places so far as certain information goes. The Indians of Clear Lake have been called Pomos, those of Santa Rosa Wappos, those of Petaluma Miwaks and those of Mount Diablo Yokuts. Indians villages in other localities are: Martinez, Saklan, Ahalan and Wolwon; Oakland, Awaste, Altahmo, and Ramanon; San Francisco, Tolono, Urebure, and Salson; San Mateo, Matalan and Kinote; Alviso, Posimi and Ulistak.

Indian art reached its highest development in basketry. By weaving the black stems of the maiden hair fern with fibers of lighter colors many different designs were produced. Some tribes cleverly wove brilliant feathers in with the fibers and so made very ornamental baskets. Flickers and bluebirds were hunted for their feathers and great numbers were used in baskets, headbands and robes. The baskets were used in gathering acorns, seeds and other food. Some were woven water-tight, others loose for sifting seeds. No baskets of the tribes on the west bay shore have been preserved, but they were doubtless similar to the others of central California. Acorns were cached in large baskets of woven pine roots, willow wands or hazel twigs. Tule reeds were woven into mats for seats, beds, doors, and roofs. Blankets of woven strips of buckskin or downy bird-skin were used for warmth.

The Indians also wove nets or bags for carrying burdens on the back. Women wore a skullcap basket on their heads, and the burden baskets were supported by a strap passing over the cap. Then, too, there were woven seed beaters, seines for fishing, nets for birds and game. Awns to pry apart the strands were used in coil weaving. Beautifully designed cradles were made for the papoose.

8 — INDIAN CUSTOMS, HABITS, AND BELIEFS
The clothing of the Indians of central California was of the usual type, blankets of sewed skins for cold weather and the universal two-piece skirt for women, sometimes fringed with tinkling spangles of shell. Men often plastered themselves with mud for warmth. The women of different tribes tattooed their chins in different designs. Men painted their faces with ocher and weathered cinnabar, ignorant of its poisonous nature.

Mush was cooked in baskets by dropping in red hot stones. Wooden paddles three feet long were used to stir it and ladle it out. Mortars for grinding food were universal throughout the state, but they were less skillfully made in central California than in the north. Acorns and buckeyes made nourishing food after long and repeated leechings to remove the bitterness. When food was scarce the inner bark of trees was sometimes eaten. Children were fond of clover. Laurel and manzanita berries were gathered, as well as thimble, goose and blackberries. They also dug bulbs and roots where they were to be found, but never planted them nor sowed seeds for a harvest. Snakes, buzzards, and coyotes were taboo.

Huts were of redwood bark, spread at the bottom and brought together at the top, or of limbs covered with matting and thatched with grass or covered with dirt. Moccasins were worn in gathering wood or on special occasions, but usually all went barefoot.

SAN FRANCISCO VISITORS

Recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Gordon of East Campbell Avenue were Mrs.

Gordon's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Tweed of San Francisco, who were here for three days. Also down for a day were Mrs. Gordon's sisters, Mrs. Roy Gordon and her children and Mrs. Ernest Capper and daughter, all of San Francisco.

California Shares Its Heritage

Baby Redwood trees are being planted all over the world, because Clarence F. Pratt, a San Francisco business man, started giving away small rooted Redwoods from the Giant Redwood Forests of California, with the result that they are now in every state in the union as well as many foreign countries. Pratt has given away over 11,000 of these baby redwoods to date, and recently one was taken to Denmark by Lawrence Nelson of San Francisco to be planted at an elaborate Fourth of July celebration in honor of a native Dane, Peter Lassen, for whom California's Mt. Lassen, Lassen county and Park have been named.

Pratt discovered the popularity of California Redwoods when he took 25 rooted baby redwood trees to a large convention in Chicago. The Chicago papers began reporting the arrival of the trees, and it seemed like most of Chicago citizens came to his hotel asking for trees. Soon after, Eastern papers and national magazines wrote up Pratt's hobby of giving away redwood trees and to date he has received over 8500 letters from all over the world.

Pratt also has a hobby of outdoor lighted Christmas trees and founded the Outdoor Christmas Tree Association of California in 1926, its main objects being: "An outdoor Christmas tree for every California home; A lane of a mile or more of outdoor Christmas trees for every California city; To assist in the preservation of forests of California."

FROM OUR READERS

Dear Editor:
Our sincere thanks for the Campbell Press publicity which so much added to the success of our recent rummage sale.
Very truly yours,
W.S.C.S., Methodist church.

Dear Editor:
We wouldn't think of closing the door on an old friend like the Campbell Press. For it has been a most welcome visitor, week after week, since 1912. Then, too, our very close friendship with a former editor — the late Harry C. Smith and his good wife, Edna — makes its arrival today seem like his ever friendly salutation, "Hi, Walt," or Edna's "How are the Merrills?"

So, today, the 38th anniversary of our wedding, we are sending payment for renewal of our subscription to the Campbell Press for another year.

With best wishes for continued success to the home paper, we remain,
Yours truly,
Dr. and Mrs. Walter I. Merrill.

Home-Made Ice Cream Is Favorite

When summer sun sends the mercury soaring, what better refresher for the family than plentiful dishes of home-made ice cream? At mealtime or between meals ice cream is a sure-fire favorite. Besides definite taste appeal, ice creams and frozen desserts really contribute vitamins in generous supply. Frozen desserts are an excellent way to include milk in the diet, too. Even confirmed non-milk drinkers enjoy frozen milk sherbets and junket ice cream.

If you are going to make frozen desserts in your mechanical refrigerator then be sure to choose a recipe which calls for one or more of the following ingredients: egg yolk, egg white, gelatin, cream, evaporated milk, condensed milk, marshmallows, cornstarch, or corn syrup. These ingredients serve two purposes: either they thicken the mixture enough to prevent the formation of large crystals, or they will hold air in the mixture when it is beaten and thus keep it smooth.

If you've selected a recipe with any of these present, you're off to a good start. The next thing is to check the technique. The faster you can freeze your mix in the refrigerator, the smoother it will be. For speedy freezing, defrost your refrigerator first. A thick coating of ice on the freezing coils will slow down the freezing considerably. Then set the cold control for freezing about an hour before you're ready to freeze the mixture. Be sure, too, that the mixture is thoroughly chilled when you put it in the freezing compartment so it will start to freeze faster.

Remember that frozen desserts require more flavoring than desserts which are not frozen. It isn't a matter of freezing out the flavor so much as that very cold foods numb the taste buds and you just can't taste the flavoring as well.

The final reminder in making frozen desserts in the mechanical refrigerator is to freeze the mixture to a mush, remove from the refrigerator and beat until fluffy before returning to the refrigerator to continue the freezing. This should be done regardless of whether the recipe indicates it or not. The only exception is in freezing mousse, pudding, or ice box cake. For all other desserts—ice creams, sherbets, frappes, water ices, etc.—be sure to beat thoroughly when the mixture is partially frozen.

... when I saw the motion picture "Mom and Dad" I was impressed with the quite good portrayal of the attitude of parents toward their responsibility in the matter of instruction in sex hygiene. I am personally of the opinion that the failure on the part of parents to meet this obligation contributes substantially to sex delinquency.
